Butcher Cattle—The butcher department was very quiet, during the fore part of the market there were but few cattle available and those mostly plain killers, though a few good cows and several loads of fairly good steers and helfers were offered. Strictly good helfers continue few, while the demand for them is good. Medium to good helfers are meeting with better sale on account of the absence of the better grades, but those below medium are not much improved.

SOUTHERN CATTLE—A moderate supply of quarantine cattle was received and proved ample to meet the trade requirements. The big end of the arrivals were cows, some of which were none being good, averaging below medium. Calf supplies were liberal. The trade was extremely dull and lifeless, and the bulk of the arrivals did not meet sale until near moon and after, and then after hard siedding. Steers were few in number and sold at steady to a shade lower prices, while the cow trade was a flat be lower. The calf market was the worst in several days, and while strictly choice light calves suffered the least decline, the sceneral trade was 1 lower than Monday on all but light weights of choice flesh.
The day's arrivals were 10 cars and 3.555 head, against 142 cars and 4.58 head last Wednesday.

Very few natives were on rale, and real good native lambs were very scarce, and good native mutton sheep were not so very plentiful. To make matters worse, the bulk of the arrivals came in late and were unloaded in a heavy rain. The market opened very slow and duil and as a rule prices were 25c lower than Tuesday, but even then the buyers did not seem anxious to make purchases. At the close lots of both sheep and lambs remained unsold and most of them had not even so much as received a bid.

HORSES—The run of horses was a little larger than on Tuesday, and considering that the two days' receipts were thrown together, a very decent run was before the buyers. The offerings, however, included very few good to choice animals in any class, and for the most part represented plain and medium quality. Conditions were pretty much the same as on the opening day of the week, except perhaps they were a little livelier and the tone was not as weak. The Eastern demand showed more active symptoms, and this infusion.
